Learn about color, caning, and combining clay components in 3-dimensions in this 3-day intermediate workshop taught by world famous Carol Simmons. Participants should have experience creating Skinner Blends and making simple canes (visit Carol's blog to assess your readiness for this class). Polymer clay will be provided and 3-4 hours of prework is required.

Taking our inspiration from the natural world, we will use very thin slices of polymer clay canes to construct multi-layered fantasy flowers with interchangeable parts or multi-component totems (for those not into flowers). In the process of creating your own unique flower combinations or totem components, you will:

- Mix luscious colors and blends
- Create stunning, coordinated color combinations
- Construct a wide variety of canes
- Craft many different types of floral or totem elements
- Assemble the components to complete finished pieces.

Register by March 1, 2018! Spaces are limited to 16 max!

- To secure your spot in the workshop, a full payment of $295 is required at the time of registration.
- No refunds for cancellations, unless you are able to personally find a replacement to take your spot in the workshop or there is a waiting list.
- If minimum class numbers (10 participants minimum, 16 maximum) are not reached, and the class is canceled, your full payment will be refunded.
- Once registered, you will receive a materials list and complete instructions for the workshop preparation. Pework is required.
- Clay for the workshop is provided, and will be available for pick up at the San Diego Polymer Clay Guild's March Clay Day, March 17th, 2018 (go to SDPCG.com for location) or, if you live out of the area, mailed to you for a $10.00 charge.
